

Jonah 1:4, 15

But the Lord hurled a great wind upon the sea, and there was a mighty tempest on the sea, so that the ship threatened to break up. So they picked up Jonah and hurled him into the sea, and the sea ceased from its raging.